

Stephanie Outten is a 20-year Human Resources professional with a Master's degree in Organizational Management who decided to use her God-given gifts, talents, and skills to coach women through the transformation process of breaking free from their cocoon to set their wings free in order to take flight in life, work, and business. She is the Creator and Owner of Cocoon to Wings Publishing, LLC and Cocoon to Wings Coaching.

Stephanie's coaching techniques allow women to do the inner work to uncover what's holding them back from discovering who God created them to be. Stephanie is passionate about Christ and serving others on their journey toward joy and self-care. She believes that when we SOAR in life, then we can pour back into the lives of those God assigned to us.

Stephanie is a part of an amazing soulTribe of women who are siSTARS desiring to serve and empower a network of other women walking and living in their Divine Y.E.S.S.
