

Vicki Antonio says she is extremely grateful for every opportunity she has had the pleasure of engaging over the years. Her journey has wonderfully married representing real estate in the melting pot that is like none other - South Florida and project management representing national sports and entertainment endeavors, and community outreach programs. Thus, she has an intense respect for cultural, social, and economic differences that make us all who we are.

Through her experience of working with some of the real estate firms in South Florida, including Keyes, Nestler Poletto, Sotheby International Realtors, and currently Enger and Volkers; and heading her own company Antonio Real Estate, she built key alliances - as project manager with: Super Bowl Xli Kick off to Better Heath Fair, Miami, FL (2006-2007); Tom Joyner Foundation-Fantastic Voyage Fundraiser Cruise (2001); Tom Joyner Enterprises Inc. /Reach Media (TJEI), Dallas, TX (2000) and Magic Bowl- Coral Gables, FL (1999).

Interestingly, networking in those settings provided an opportunity for this mother of two; to work with an NFL sanctioned non-profit organization to enrich the lives of inner city children. As Executive Director/Executive Assistant of the Gwen Cherry Park Foundation, which gives oversight to the Miami NFL Y.E.T. Center, she maintained relationship with donors, developed and maintained strategic partnerships with community businesses and leaders, and oversaw a $1 million construction project.

Antonio, a minister, vision coach and highly-respected speaker, founded Victorious Lifestyle Strategies, which offers Strategy, Activation and Navigation in the management of those parts of life that become Un-manageable. The company provides Personal, Professional, and Financial Life Strategies through Confidential Coaching, Workshops, Public Speaking, and Corporate Trainings. The company's mission is: Helping mankind "Vita Per Portencia" - Live with Power and Authority!
